

REIMAGINE BOULDER HIGHWAY HITS MAJOR MILESTONE

As we mark the one-year anniversary of the Reimagine Boulder Highway project, we've laid the groundwork—literally—for a safer, more walkable and future-ready Boulder Highway. These improvements may be hard to see now, but they are the vital first steps in a transformation that will benefit residents, businesses and commuters for decades to come.

Here's a look at what we've accomplished since breaking ground:

Better Drainage for Safer Streets

Flood-prone areas near Lake Mead and Sunset are now better protected thanks to major drainage upgrades:

- Installed new underground storm drains
- Built 5 major storm drain connections, plus 45 manholes and 80 inlets

Safer Intersections and Brighter Streets

- Installed new traffic signal wiring at every intersection
- Laid conduit to power future lighting and signal systems
- Added over 100 new streetlights

Stronger Roads and Better Transit Access

- Placed a solid foundation of road base
- Paved new asphalt in the center median for Bus Rapid Transit (BRT)
- Built red concrete bus stops to support reliable and accessible transit

Improved Sidewalks and Accessibility

- Added new curbs and gutters
- Poured new concrete for smoother sidewalks
- Installed new ADA-compliant ramps

Upgraded Utilities—Future-Ready Infrastructure

- Relocated all utility lines that conflicted with the project to avoid future disruptions

The next phase of this project will bring big, visible changes—smoother roads, better bus service, new landscaping and more welcoming public spaces.
